Chronic pain can be exhausting. It can affect us on all levels.

As we get older we find the importance of maintaining a healthy mind, body and spirit. When one of these aspects are interrupted it can truly change our lives and the things we love to do.

People live in pain every day of their life, some worse than others. For those of you that suffer with neck or back pain, Neuropathy or symptoms in the arms, hands, legs or feet I know how exhausting it can be.

It changes how we sleep, changes our mood, makes it difficult to complete simple tasks around the house. Many of us are led to believe we can only treat our pain with pain medications or surgical measures. Advancements in medicine and technology have made this a distant memory providing hope for those who wish to live a pain free and drug free life.

Empower the Patient and give them their life back patients needs to help eliminate chronic pain, reduce medications and obtain your individual goal for care. Their office has had the honor of helping thousands reduce and eliminate pain medications including but not limited to gabapentin, lyrica and cymbalta and neurotin, which many take to try and cope with their peripheral Neuropathy. They have helped reduced Lortab, hydrocodone, Tylenol or NSAIDs use in those with chronic neck or back pain. They believe in ELIMINATING THE CAUSES OF YOUR PAIN, not masking them with drugs.

Symptoms and Conditions they treat

Injuries, spinal degeneration and nerve damage result in several changes to the body. Neuropathy results in damage to nerves. All could be due to diabetes, chemotherapy, radiation therapy, statins or other long-term medication use, vascular diseases, spinal trauma to the neck or low back and idiopathic neuropathy, which has no definitive cause as to why it occurred.

Class IV Medical Laser. Increased blood flow to damaged tissue. This device is useful in treating a large amount of acute and chronic inflammation related to arthritis in the spine, joints or neuropathy conditions.

Relaxing decompressive therapy is designed to rehabilitate arthritis, stenosis, sciatica, as well as herniated, bulging and desiccated spinal discs. At WNY Pain Relief we utilize a model that allows us to comfortably treat both cervical and lumbar vertebrae. Our patients relax while the machine does the work under Doctor supervision.

tissue. The person may experience swelling, pain or discomfort in the area. Over time the tissue does not heal, and the body instead stabilizes the injury as best it can. The nerve itself functions much like a light bulb. It turns on and off. When it can no longer turn off properly, a result of damage and inflammation the symptoms of neuropathy begin. Because of how special a nerve is it feels many different things sharp pain, burning, numbness, tingling, pins and needles. The blood supply to the nerve retracts and the nerve then can no longer receive the enough nutrients it needs. Weakening to the muscles associated with the nerve and the individual may begin to feel more pain or discomfort, difficulty with balance, walking or standing for any period of time.

Back Pain

Neck and back pain occur from many different causes. Trauma to, or degeneration of the spine over time may lead to serious changes. Not all initial injuries or changes result in immediate pain. Pain can be acute, a new injury, or chronic, result of damage over time or repetitive damage. Many symptoms and issues progress later in life. Arthritis, disc bulges, disc herniations, stenosis, sciatica, muscle spasms, and spinal cord or nerve damage are just some things that occur. These changes result in difficulty in standing or walking, balance, nerve pain into the arms, hands, legs and feet, weakness and difficulty taking care of yourself, home or loved ones.

Dr. Milioto and Nightingale's treatment protocols are unique to their office. Using a combination of therapies, individualized to each person. This is the method needed to treat each patient's individualized pain. Each therapeutic approach is used to reduce chronic pain, which when left untreated can result in damage to the nerve, bones, muscles and blood vessels.

Take the next step, Take control of your pain

Attend their upcoming educational Seminar or schedule a Consultation

Dr. Milioto is hosting 2 educational seminars this month on Wednesday February 12th and February 26th 2020 at 1pm. He will provide you with knowledge and understanding of the symptoms you are experiencing and why, explain the truth behind the medications we take and also provide a tour of his facility and explain how you can truly heal and leave unnecessary pain medications in the past.

Wish to schedule a Consultation?

Dr. Milioto offers one on one consultation for those ready to change their lives or wish for a more personal experience and do not need to attend the seminar. He will take a detailed history, review your diagnostic imaging, bloodwork or other pertinent health information, perform a detailed examination and create your unique treatment plan based on your pain, discomfort, symptoms and cause of pain.

Reviews

Pete: The quality of my life has improved drastically. I'm able to get back to things I haven't done, bowling, driving a race car, sleeping much better than I have in the last 10 or 20 years. A great alternative to surgeries

Therese: "The best place for neurological challenges and back problems! Extremely great doctors who care for their patients more than anything else. Nutritional help also available!!" Anne: "After trying multiple routes I called inquiring about spinal decompression, and honestly it was the best thing I ever did. They walked me through a care plan with multiple therapy techniques and got me started right away. Everyone in the office is spectacular and I can't even praise them enough!! The best part is that everyone is very honest and realistic and doesn't try to promise anything they can't guarantee. I will only go back to WNY Pain Relief & Integrative Wellness for these services. It was not only a great experience but also life changing."

Massage Therapy. There is more than one way to do massage. This powerful system uses powerful water jets to deliver heat with both customizable pressure and targeted treatments areas to bring relief to sore muscles and joints, increase circulation and compliment the end of a therapy.

Massage Therapy. Pain relief and positive blood circulation that comes with massage therapy. A great way to end a treatment session in office.
